Banner Warehouse Sought By Growers

Danville Warehouse Corporation Read to Lease Hollands' and Exchange at $2,500 Per Annum Each.

The meeting of officials of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association here yesterday with the city banking interests resulted in the removal of several misapprehensions, it was learned today, and revealed no hostile sentiment on the part of the organization towards Danville as a tobacco market. It is known, however, that the Co-operative Association is extremely anxious to secure two more warehouses on lease in this city and negotiations to this end are now being carried on. The Danville Warehouse Corporation has offered to the association, Hollands and Exchange warehouses, on Union street, at a rental of $2,500 each per annum, the association to make such repairs as it sees fit and to keep up the property, paying the taxes. This was the counter-proposal to the standard contract, which was not considered by the corporation a good business proposition. The association seems to be willing to take one of these warehouses, but not both, and is concentrating efforts to secure Banner warehouse, which is strategically placed in the city of Danville, since it stands opposite the mouth of Worham street bridge, across which the tobacco wagons from a fertile tobacco section pour in large numbers. The Warehouse Corporation has not consented to the leasing of this warehouse yet. If the association succeeds in leasing this house, it will give the growers three good warehouses in different sections of the city, a point which is considered of high importance.

One thing of interest to the community was brought out at the meeting of the bankers. One of the Dan-

Gouverneur Morris Seeking Divorce In Los Angeles

"Temperament" Say His Friends As He Asks Freedom from Suffragist Charging Desertion and Abandonment.

NEW YORK, May 11.—"Temperament." That's the one explanation advanced by friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gouverneur Morris in explanation of the action for divorce on the grounds of desertion and abandonment, filed in Los Angeles by the novelist and war correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris have not lived together since February, 1918, when there was a disagreement following Mr. Morris' return from abroad.

Although friends of the couple have long realized the differences which brought about their separation are of deep-rooted nature and as to preclude their ever resuming domestic life, much astonishment was evinced when despatches from the coast reached this city yesterday carrying the intelligence that the rift in their relations had widened to the point where the author had appealed to the courts for his freedom.

Mrs. Morris, for some time past, has been known as an ardent suffragist. Mr. Morris' sympathies are not attuned in that direction.

In 1908 Mrs. Morris stepped out as the pioneer of the modern society woman in business. It was the complete "emancipation" and friends declare it placed the seal upon the arrangement that had grown up between the two.

He is a lineal descendant of Lewis Morris, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Mrs. Morris is a daughter of James M. Waterbury and a sister of Mrs. Waterbury, who were the polo playing champions of their time.

The marriage of Gouverneur Morris and Elsie Waterbury took place at the Waterbury country home in Westchester Village May 22, 1905, four years later that Mrs. Morris launched her first business enterprise. She opened a dry shop under the name of "Mrs. Vanly Fair" at No. 433 Fifth Avenue. The venture was short-lived.

The Low Angle despatch says Mr. Morris' complaint in the divorce action cites his wife as being "employed in a New York beauty parlor."

Mrs. Morris is in fact the vice president and general manager of the Primrose House, a so-called beauty parlor, at No. 3 East 52nd street, and also the vice president of a Massachusetts concern manufacturing cosmetics and skin goods. She opened Primrose House a year ago.

Mrs. Morris has two daughters, Kate, 15, and Patricia, 11.

Much of Mr. Morris' fascinating fiction is devoted to the ideal married life. He has pictured in his stories many a happy fireside, where the love and sympathy and the faith of two men have lifted them above the entanglements of circumstance. Gouverneur Morris was a neighbor of the late Richard Harding Davis. One of the most charming things that Morris ever wrote was his tribute to the home life of Davis and Jessie McCon. In it is expressed the highest of his own ideals.

Bovard Makes Good Progress

NEW YORK, May 11.—The engagement of Rodolph Valentino, "Champion love-maker of the movies," to Richard Hudnut, wealthy perfume manufacturer, was announced at the Hudnut home here today.

John W. Carter, commonwealth's attorney of this city, has been employed to assist in the prosecution of those held responsible for the shooting of M. L. Bovard, Chatham Franklin School student there last Monday. Mr. Carter left for Chatham this morning to take up his investigation with Commonwealth's Attorney George T. Rison, with whom he will be associated.

Bovard's condition showed further improvement as reported, this being taken nourishment and he is sitting up in bed at the General Hospital, able to read and far more cheerful than at any time since being brought here. His recovery is considered remarkable in so short a time and every care is being taken to offset any complications which may be discerned.

The preliminary hearing to be given the five accused men, three of whom are in Danville, had their removal to the state prison today. At that hour, Officer J. E. Rice, of Schoolfield, was waiting at the courthouse to carry the three men over to Chatham. It was reported then that the lawyers for both sides were conferring. It was indicated that a hearing might be gone into this afternoon on habeas corpus proceedings.

Judge Turner Clement did not order the sending to Danville of the three suspects, as reported, this being done by Sheriff J. A. Hodnett, who had the right to order their removal without consulting the court. It is also denied that the prisoners have been examined by any local length, although reports from a Chatham policeman were, on Tuesday, that the suspects were being interrogated in private. Issue also is taken with the statement made by counsel for the men yesterday that their removal to the state prison was prompted by the congregation of men and students at a late hour on the C. T. S. campus. Superintendent A. H. Camden states that there was no gathering on the campus and no suggestion of violence toward the accused.

A furlough of 30 days was voted the general secretary, this period having been recommended by his physician on account of his physical condition. The executive committee will arrange for the supervision of the work in his absence. Several members of the board offered their services and will help in the prosecution and development of the work.

Hard Blow Is Struck at Gangsters

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 12.—Police and civic organizations today saw in the indictment of eight labor leaders against them the law invoked 36 years ago to obtain executions of the "Haymarket rioters," a smashing blow at what they termed "gang terrorism." The indictment, which charges the labor leaders with conspiracy to murder, was returned by a grand jury of 24 members, including several officers, said a few of over 400 have been arrested and released.

ESTATES AT OVER ROAD MONEY

Differences of opinion have arisen between the estate of John E. Hughes and the estate of R. A. James regarding the money for improving what is known as Hughes Hill road. Motion picture judgment of $2,000 has been instituted by attorneys for the Hughes estate from the James estate. It being claimed that this amount was underwritten by Mr. James in the building of the road.

The issue revolves about the construction placed upon the terms of the guarantee for the road which cost $10,000, and towards the payment of which both Messrs. Hughes and James subscribed $2,000. The suit will be contested in the civil court next month.

Officer Captures Liquor Peddlers Following Chase

Police officers this morning captured four gallons of moonshine whiskey, confiscated a horse and wagon and placed under arrest two negroes, George Cobb and Berlesley Pinnix. The latter proprietor of a cologne business on Main street. The haul was the result of the effort of Patrolman W. C. Talley, assisted by Officer W. B. Foster and Detective J. N. Campbell, who by mere chance happened to arrive at the place of time to help Talley, who was having a difficult time chasing the negroes, both going in different directions. It was a thrilling chase and Talley was almost exhausted when he finally had the negroes in his power. The excitement took place between 9:30 and 10 o'clock, and the scenes were laid on Main, North Ridge, High, Spring and Floyd streets. Talley had suspected the negroes of engaging in the liquor business for some time. This morning he seized the opportunity and satisfied his belief. He was in the neighborhood of the corner of Main and North Ridge streets. He took particular notice of an enclosed wagon used for delivering clothes. The officer passed on by the wagon and pretended to be going to a physician's office nearby. He went by as though nothing was wrong, and the negroes did not become the least suspicious. After the officer had gone some little distance past the wagon, he turned suddenly and saw Pinnix, leaving the vehicle with a box. Then he saw the horse and wagon. He dropped the box, grabbed his hat and started to run as fast as he could. Detective Campbell caught sight of Talley running, and concluded that everything was not just right. Instead of following the race, he came up by the corner of High and Floyd streets and saw a negro coming in his direction with Talley close in pursuit. Campbell called to Pinnix to halt and the negro, seeing that it was useless to further evade the officers, stopped, and Talley took charge of him.

In the meantime, Police Officer W. B. Foster was coming down Main street, and his attention was attracted by a large crowd, most negroes, standing in a circle on Ridge street. He went to investigate and found six half gallon fruit jars of whiskey. All of the jars but one had been smashed. The negro, Foster took charge of the remaining jar. By this time Cobb had driven the horse and wagon away. Foster could learn little of what had transpired. While he was standing there, Cobb drove up with the wagon, which he had taken away from Cobb, after arresting Pinnix.

After capturing Pinnix, Talley and Campbell started back to Main street, and when they reached Spring street, saw the wagon with Cobb seated in it. Another chase ensued, for Cobb, on seeing the officers, grabbed a rain coat and started to run. He was finally captured back of a warehouse on Main street. Cobb was found to contain two half-gallon jars of whiskey, one in each of the sleeves. The two negroes were turned over to Campbell, who carried them to the police station.

In the meantime Talley was anxious to get back to the corner of Main and Ridge streets to take charge of the whiskey Pinnix had thrown away in order to hinder the officers. When Officer W. B. Foster arrived he found the two officers mounted the wagon, and with Talley taking the reins, drove down Main street and toward the corner of Main and Ridge streets. The two prisoners in charge of Campbell. Pedestrians on Main street cast a curious look at Talley driving the fatigued animal drawing the small enclosed car, which attracted a crowd of onlookers. Foster was holding the jar in his arms and this explained the whole matter.

Owing to the fact that the haul and captures were not planned in any way, and neither of the officers knew of what was taking place at the different scenes, or of the particulars, they regarded themselves fortunate in landing the two negroes in the way they did. "The whole thing was like a clockwork," Talley said after the clockwork. "I was waiting for the chance to get a rest, and wiping the perspiration from his face, added 'That was some chase.'"

Negro Slayer Still At Large

Further details have been received regarding the killing in Washington, D. C., of the negro manager of the Hughes Tobacco Company, by a negro several nights ago. Mr. Addison is a brother of F. H. Addison, of this city, who was on his way to Washington, D. C., at the time of the tragedy.

Tony Gibbs, the negro who committed the crime, has not been captured. Details of the shooting are that Mr. Addison questioned the negro about being late and the negro reached for his gun and reached for a shotgun that was standing behind the door, firing at Mr. Addison, who was sitting at the desk in the negro room at the Washington Tobacco Company's warehouse long enough to tell who did the shooting and a general alarm was turned in, and more than 100 armed men covered every road that led into the city. Automobiles full of negroes were sent out to search for the man who had killed the negro. Chief of Police Evans and his men searched all the negro houses in the neighborhood in that section of the city. Descriptions of the negro have been broadcast.

The deceased leaves a wife and two children, and was a man who was thought very highly of by a community.

City May Furnish Street Car Power

It became known today that the Danville Traction and Power Company may at an early date resume negotiations with the city for the furnishing of electric power to operate the city street car service. Preliminary negotiations were entered into between the city and the late John P. Rison, but these failed to materialize. The street car company has realized for some time that an additional unit for those already operating at the street car power plant in North Danville will have to be put in. This would cost between $12,000 and $15,000, and the question now is whether the city can offer the street car company a rate which could attract the company and obviate the immediate necessity of such heavy expenditure. The present power units have to run almost continuously to operate the street cars, and this leaves no margin for machinery on which to fall back in the event of some mechanical trouble developing.

With the city preparing to install a new large power unit in its power plant, doubling the present capacity, it would be able easily to carry the city's light load, the demands for current for commercial purposes and the street car load as well, and it could meet the demand now as the demand for current is higher during the summer months than during the winter. The city, however, does not now manufacture that type of current which could be used by the street car company and which would be converted. Negotiations which may now be said to be in an informal stage, should they be continued, would turn on the question of installing machinery in the city power plant to convert the current making it available for the street car company. The city is understood to be willing to sell the power as now turned out at the power plant and let the street car company convert it and pay for the installation of this necessary machinery.

Budget Coming Up For Action

The city council will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in monthly session. One of the most important matters coming up is the budget which was introduced at the last meeting and which probably will be adopted tonight. It will be present tonight a delegation from the Young Men's Business Club to advocate the immediate purchase of a new fire engine. There appears to be a proposal to carry the expense of a new machine.

The Public Works committee will make no recommendation on the petition presented by Confederate organizations seeking the use of certain rooms in the Memorial Mansion rent free. The petition was presented to the committee yesterday, but no action was taken, pending a more extensive survey of the situation.

The special committee which was recently appointed to wait on S. J. Owens and urge him to withdraw his resignation from the council will probably have a report to present tonight. Should the report disclose the decision of Mr. Owens to resign on account of his health, it will be incumbent for the council to elect his successor at a specially called meeting, for Mr. Owens' unexpired term. It is still thought possible, however, that Mr. Owens' service may be available by some change in the personnel of committees, relieving the councilman of the onerous position of chairman of the finance committee upon whom a good deal of work devolves.

Think Daugherty's Stand Against War Gougers Is Bluff

Some Congressmen See It As Merely Plan to Thwart Inquiry Woodruff and Johnson Ask

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Washington is wondering how far Attorney General Daugherty will go in his sudden announced determination to proceed against the war profiteers and contract grifters.

By some congressman the announcement is taken to be merely an attempt to head off the investigation that Representatives Woodruff and Johnson have been endeavoring to conduct. Daugherty has been in office and that the report of the Graham committee in particular has been a source of irritation to the Department of Justice to go after the malefactors. Woodruff and Johnson today said they would keep any recess programme and keep a quorum here until the House acted on their resolution authorizing the inquiry.

The question of the running of the statute of limitations against the war grafters is being revived. Most of these cases would seem to have lapsed with the expiration of the armistice, but from the date of the armistice, as pointed out by Senator Walsh of Montana, one of the great legal authorities of Congress, that makes it possible to extend the statute of limitations. It is expressed as to what would be Mr. Daugherty's course in the case of the Standard Steel Car Company, of which Mr. Mellon, now secretary of the treasury, was chairman, and of which Chairman Graham, now secretary of the investigating committee, was a member.

Officers of the department asserted today that no indication of the nature of the cases would be given out before the departure of next March. Those who claim to be in touch with the investigation work say the case in which Attorney General Daugherty referred to in his letter to the president in connection with the case of the Bosch Magneto case, which Assistant Attorney General Crim has been investigating.

New Courthouse Discussed Last Night At Y. M. B. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Business Club was held last night in the club room, and proved to be both an interesting and instructive evening for those present. After regular committee reports and usual preliminary matters, Secretary Murray introduced P. W. Ashworth, member of the public speaking class who gave a most interesting talk on the subject of "Danville Needs a Combination Court House and Municipal Hall." Mr. Ashworth outlined very briefly the advantages of such a building to a city.

The next speaker on the program was J. H. Gammon, who is also a member of the public speaking class, and who made a very pertinent and interesting talk on "Danville's Needs for more Public Amusement." Mr. Gammon outlined the advantages of better parks, playgrounds, etc. He also suggested that some arrangement be made to have a swimming pool put in Balou park, and that Sanitary drinking cups be provided for the public at the pumps in Balou park.

A. B. Carrington, Jr., spoke on the twelve million dollar bond issue in the talking what would have to be done to get the extra session of the legislature called.

The following resolution was offered and carried: "Believing that there is no more important matter for legislative action than a stop of the executive drain upon our resources due to present road conditions. We, therefore go on record as being in favor of the convening of a special session of legislature to pass such acts as is necessary to the issuing of highway bonds in a reasonable amount and properly safeguarded."

"Be it therefore resolved, that a committee of fifteen members of this club be appointed to circulate petitions bearing on this subject."

The following committee was appointed by President Meade and will meet in the office of the club this morning at eleven thirty o'clock to perfect plans for circulating the petition.

Isaac Berman, H. J. Keeling, W. R. Harrison, C. B. Conway, A. J. Rust, A. B. Carrington, Jr., C. T. Eldridge, L. L. Kaufman, J. H. Gammon, C. F. Fitzgerald, C. W. Willard Dodson, Jesse W. Benton, P. W. Ashworth, R. V. Clutter.

The next matter of business in order was the discussion of the Tobacco Co-operative Marketing Association after free and open discussion from the majority of the members present, a special committee was appointed to look into the matter of arranging a special day for the farmers at an early date.

Announcement was made of the coming of the business and professional women's State conference, and several of the members offered the use of their automobiles for one afternoon during the conference.

A motion was offered by Louis Kaufman pledging the endorsement and support of the Y. M. B. C. to the farmers in the matter of the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association. This motion was carried and the club secretary was authorized to give publicity to the action and advertisement in today's Register and Bee.

LAST OF BOSTON'S WAREHOUSES JOIN TOBACCO POOL

News received here privately yesterday was that the remaining two warehouses in South Boston have joined the 'pool' making five houses now definitely aligned with the new farmers' organization. This means that there will be no auction sales and farmers who have not signed the market agreement will bring their tobacco from that territory to Danville where auction sales will be held during the coming season. With virtually all of the small market towns surrounding Danville aligned with the pool it is expected that scores of farmers will find Danville the only outlet for their tobacco at auction sale and that the trading radius will be naturally increased. The road to Houston is being improved and this will be of assistance to those tobacco growers who have not signed the agreement and who therefore cannot sell their tobacco on the smaller markets.

Poverty, But No More Famine in Russia, If Harvest Proves Good

These happy youngsters are the fortunate guests of an American Relief Administration kitchen in Petrograd. The famine in the Volga Basin was so severe in the early spring that its effect was felt sharply in the Russian cities, and a special allowance of 40,000 child rations was made for Petrograd.

Child-feeding stations like the one above, reaching more than 3,000,000 children, and 7,000,000 daily corn rations for adults, made possible through the American Congressional appropriation of $20,000,000, struck such a blow at the world's greatest famine that American Relief Administration officials believe the famine, in the sense of the great natural disaster caused by drought, will be ended by autumn.

A recent report to Herbert Hoover, under whose direction the task is being accomplished, says: "There will be hunger and extreme suffering among portions of the population for years to come. However, conditions in the autumn, provided a crop materializes, will have resolved themselves into economic poverty rather than famine. The sole and proper remedy for that poverty is economic reconstruction, and emergency charity cannot solve the basic situation."

SEEK TO PUT THE BOARD OF SCHOOL BRAKES ON TOO TRUSTEES MEET MANY DRIVES AT RISON PARK

A recommendation was presented by R. R. Murray, secretary of the Y. M. B. C. at its monthly meeting last night and adopted by the club looking to the protection of the citizens of Danville from too many "drives" in this, that and the other proposition.

In the future such matters will be referred to a committee for investigation, after which action will be taken by the organization as the merits of the case may be seen to justify.

The recommendation follows: "Various movements and enterprises from time to time seek the approval and support of this club and other civic bodies. Our members are also solicited to purchase tickets and advertise in all sorts of mediums, many of doubtful value. Secretaries of the several organizations are sought by the promoters of these projects in an effort to obtain individual support when what is really needed is a united community opinion."

"These matters should all be approved or disapproved upon their merits after careful investigation and consideration by a properly constituted body for the community. The decision of this body should be such as to inspire confidence, and represent the community interest for the best interests of Danville."

Therefore, in order to provide the necessary machinery for efficiently handling this community service the following is hereby recommended: "That we endorse and report to the Board of Education, a committee composed of like committee to be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, Young Men's Business Club, Retail Merchants Club, Rotary Club, Retail Merchants Association and any other bodies which the said joint committees may from time to time admit to membership."

"That an invitation be immediately extended to the several organizations, above enumerated, to participate in this movement."

"That the duty of this Joint Committee on Endorsement be carefully investigated and report to the Board of Education, and the public at large upon all projects seeking approval or support of the several civic organizations or any one of them or of the community generally either through the sale of tickets, stocks, advertising, financial campaigns or through any other means."

Respectfully submitted, YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS CLUB By R. R. Murray, Executive secretary.

D. M. I. SCORES BIG SUCCESS

Passed Governmental Inspection With Flying Colors.

"Danville military institute registered the success of the year today when Major Worden Crawford, Jr., Inspection Officer of the Third Army area, pronounced the cadet corps to be excellent. Though he left only a day earlier than expected, he left only commendation of the military training and the general department of the corps."

Inspection began at two o'clock when Major Crawford commanded a one-order drill, column of squads, column of companies, right front to line, on left into line. All were executed in rapid order. Company movements from flank and moving pivots were executed with speed and accuracy, after which the battalion was deployed and performed a few minutes of rapid skirmish drill. From a prone position on the ground, advance was made by squad rushes from the right and officers and non-commissioned officers hit the dust with their men in fine style. Assembly on the right in double time the battalion was advanced column of squads and by on right into line was brought into battalion front.

Here Major Crawford was so pleased with the drill of Company B that he ordered it dismissed and at the same time ordered that Company A, under its cadet commander, should perform the manual of arms. Three minutes was sufficient to convince the inspector that the cadets were on their toes and Company A was ordered dismissed, having completed an excellent showing.

Cadet Captains Yancey and Suttles commanded Companies A and B respectively.

Competitive drill will be had on Saturday morning at 10.45 on the campus.

Rebuilt Head Fails To Convince Jury

Hesitates to Indict Alleged Cave Man on Identification of Reconstructed
Skull.

NEW CITY, N. Y., May 11.—The Rockland county grand jury faced a stone wall in the Lillian White case when it adjourned tonight. Convinced as many of the jurors are that the skeleton of the young woman murdered by the mountain cave man, that of the reeble-minded Brooklyn girl, they hesitated to accept the identification based upon the reconstruction of a skull, so they put off an expression of judgment until Friday, when they will hear more witnesses.

However, it was learned, acceptance by the grand jury of the identification made by Lillian White's sisters and brother will lead to the arrest of the one man whose name has been linked with that of Lillian since the discovery of her remains on Chococock mountain a month ago. Her sisters, Mrs. Copertino and Mrs. Doren, and her brother, John White, were among the witnesses today. All declared their conviction that the dead girl was Lillian. Outside the jury room, Mrs. Copertino said:

"If it is not my sister, where is she? She wrote to me sometimes three times a week, every time she had a stamp. I was everything to her. It is natural to think she would run away and not come to me? This talk about Lillian being still alive is crazy."

Other witnesses were Capt. Grant Williams, who reconstructed the skull of the dead girl, Mary E. Hamilton, New York policewoman, who evolved the theory the skeleton was that of Lillian White, Dr. C. S. Little and Dr. E. S. Sorens, superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Leitchworth Village Home for Feeble-minded where Lillian was an inmate and waitress at the table of the attendant, Joseph Crawford, who has been missing since March 14; mountaineers who found the body. District Attorney Leach conducted the examination of witnesses and at its conclusion refused to discuss any phase of the case, which, however, he admitted to be the most complete mystery with which he has ever confronted. A summation of the testimony follows:

The first mountain ascent since last fall was made by boys seeking trailing arbutus. A month ago the boys found the skeleton of a girl. Hamilton, notified Sam Conklin, watchman at the Leitchworth Village Home, two miles away, who notified the sheriff. A search revealed only the embers of a fire in which the victim's clothes might have been destroyed. The girl's head had been battered by a bludgeon. The bludgeon was found. A check-up on all the girls missing from the home for a year eliminated all but Lillian White. Her sister, meanwhile, had appealed to Mrs. Hamilton in the Missing Persons' Bureau of the New York police department for help. Capt. Williams was called in. Witnesses testified Lillian White was found and attended at whose table she waited; that this attendant had written love letters to her, that he fell in love with a nurse at about the time Lillian White disappeared in September; that he married the nurse last February, and robbed and deserted her a month later.

FARMER IS CHARGED

WITH CAMP'S MURDER

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 11. R. B. Shaw, a farmer, is under arrest at LaFayette, Ga., charged with the killing of R. B. Camp, whose body was found on the bank of Chickamauga Creek on May 5.

Camp was shot from behind while fishing.

Baptists Are Against Cards

"The Baptists of this country are against dancing, card-playing and everything else which will mar happiness and destroy manhood," was the declaration made by President T. J. King, at the opening of the third day's session of the Virginia Baptist State convention this morning in the Loyal St. Baptist church, "and we condemn the divorcee."

"Every man should be the husband to one wife," he continued, "and especially should this apply to the ministry. A man with two or more living wives is unfit to lead the people, and not a true representative of Jesus Christ. Too many of our people in America have a disregard for the marriage vow, and now is the time for all America to call a halt. I am proud of the advancement made in the past thirty years, and it is nothing to what it is going to be."

The convention was opened this morning by deacons—the first time that laymen had full charge of the opening. Deacon W. J. Sims led the hymn, "Go, Preach My Gospel, South the Word." Deacon George Rayhaven read the Scripture lesson, and Deacon E. T. Grasty made the opening prayer. He had many things to tell God about—he practically made a speech on his knees.

Prof. Vernon N. Johns discussed "Jesus and the World Woes," which was practical and full of inspiration. He intimated that there were many people in the world who were talking about heaven being their home, yet had never seen one that was home sick.

The gospel of peace and good will was preached by the Rev. Dr. W. E. Graham, of Philadelphia, pastor of the Holy Trinity Baptist church, and a native Virginian. "Any man who stirs up race hatred, race prejudice, race antipathy, is a dangerous man, I care not what his position may be, and while others may preach and teach hatred let us on all occasions teach peace. We can win more and get up the hill of progress faster through love than we can through hate."

"I love Virginia, and while I am working in Pennsylvania," said Dr. Graham, "yet I am always glad when the time comes for me to come to this State to be with my brethren. Holy Trinity Baptist church, of which I am pastor, sends to you at this time the small sum of five hundred dollars, and you will hear from us in a more substantial way through the Pennsylvania convention."

Dr. W. T. Hall, of Philadelphia, who for twenty years was pastor of the High Street Baptist church, Danville, presided over the convention. He said that he had visited the colored high school, of which Prof. Grasty is principal, found it in a crowded condition. "I am surprised to see the crowded condition," he said, "and I am sure that the good people of Danville are going to make a change in this. Mayor Wooding is one of the best men I have ever known, and then the other officials of Danville are high-class men, who believe in justice for all."

"In the name of the convention this morning, I visited the school with others, and laid a few words to the boys and girls of our race who are looking up for inspiration and advice. They want to do and be something."

The Rev. C. L. Aiken delivered an address on "The Modern Mind and the Church," asking the question if the mind of the aggressive trained men and women were turning from the church today, and if so why?

Dr. A. L. Winslow, of Danville, presided over the session this afternoon, and several strong addresses were delivered.

PREPARING A PLAY

The senior class of the High school is preparing to present a play called "A Struggle for Life," on Friday, May 19th. The performance will be staged at the Municipal hall.

New Yorker Sold Bogus Beer To Rich

CHICAGO, May 11.—Daniel W. Davis came to Chicago from New York to make $1,000,000 by selling near beer under the guise of real beer.

Today he sat in the lockup at the Federal Building and told how he had fooled the persons whose names got into the Blue Book and the Social Register. Davis was sorry the government had interrupted his career as a Wallingford bootlegger. He defied prohibition agents to prove that the kick in his brew registered more than one-half of one per cent.

"The government does not dare to produce an analysis of that beer," Davis said. "I came all the way here from New York. I knew from newspaper reports that Chicago was one of the best cities in the country in which to make money on liquor."

"I'm not a common bootlegger. I came from one of the best families in New York. I am not a thief, either; but when a fellow can figure out there are enough fools in the world to give him a million dollars through being fooled, I believe he is entitled to the dough."

"Here was my proposition: I knew there were a number of beer lovers among the wealthy. I knew, too, they would buy beer if it were delivered safely to their house. You know of for three years the average man forgets the taste of real beer. He can be fooled on the near stuff."

"So I bought up a lot of near beer, scraped off the labels and replaced them with a big red label bearing the word 'Special.' I got a Blue Book and prepared a list of names. Later I called up several of the families—prominent men, too, and told them all my story. 'I'm the fellow you have been looking for. I am selling good beer. I'll deliver it to your home without payment in advance.'"

"They all bit. I delivered all my goods by automobile, in a nice, neat little carton, you know—delivered in broad daylight—front door. I had a string of five salesmen who knew their business. One of them attempted to get an order from a member of the Anti-Saloon League. They told him he was in the wrong place to sell beer—near or all-the-way beer. That ended it."

Davis said his profits last month ran close to $10,000. He is 22 years old and says he is engaged to marry the sister of one of Chicago's prominent lawyers.

J. W. Rice, Aged 50, Takes Own Life Near Asheville

ASHEVILLE, May 11.—J. W. Rice, 50 years old, placed a revolver to his head and fired a shot which caused death half an hour later at a local hospital to which he was rushed late yesterday afternoon. The man, who is said to have been in ill health for several years, lived on the French Broad river road near the Carolina Woods Products company.

The tragic end came just as crowds of workmen were passing the front yard of the deceased's son, Latimer Rice. Other attempts had been made, acquaintances say, in the past few years to commit suicide.

The bullet, fired from a Smith and Wesson pistol, 32 calibre, entered the right side of the head and ranged downward.

Surviving are the widow and five children. The deceased is said to have owned considerable property in the vicinity of the wood products company, and a farm in Madison county where he resided before coming to this section.

—Miss Jane Flora, who has been ill at her home on South Main street, is reported improving.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE, THE LAMP THAT MADE HER NAME, A VERSE OF FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE'S POEM DEDICATED TO HER, AND VIEWS SHOWING THE VARIED WORK OF MODERN-DAY NURSES.

Eighty years ago a nurse was a drudge, a so-called "ward maid," as standing was that of a scrub-woman. Florence Nightingale, coming from a distinguished English family, looked her friends and relatives when she began nursing the sick. It was she who founded the profession as we know it today. Her writings on the subject are still used as textbooks, which shows how clearly she identified their fundamentals in her time.

The Crimean War gave Florence Nightingale her opportunity. For the first time in history women nurses were attached to the British army with Florence Nightingale at their head. The soldiers loved her. She saved an innumerable number of lives. It was in this war service that she won the name of "The Lady of the Lamp," because of her devoted practice of going through the hospital wards at all hours of the night. Longfellow wrote a famous poem under this title.

Nursing has advanced far since Florence Nightingale's day. The profession has become more and more specialized, and the training more rigorous as standards were raised. In these days nurses are to be found not only in sick rooms, but in public health service, in industrial work, in laboratories, in schools, in operating rooms, everywhere, in fact, that offers a place to save life and relieve suffering.

And wherever there are nurses, May 12 probably always will be observed as the birthday of Florence Nightingale.

SCHOOLFIELD AND
REIDSVILLE IN TIE

Schoolfield and Reidsville battle ten innings to a tie. One of the hardest fought games of the season was staged at the Bi-State park yesterday between Schoolfield and Reidsville. Both teams pitched masterful ball throughout the entire game. Neither team being able to shove a man across the rubber. The game was called at the end of the tenth on account of darkness. ## SPEEDY ACTION BY CONGRESS IN WAR FAUD CASES

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Urging speedy action by Congress on his request for a fund of $500,000 for investigation and prosecution of war frauds, Attorney General Daugherty told the House appropriations committee today that 275 cases were pending and that the government stood to recover approximately $192,000,000.

This total, larger than that given by the attorney general in a letter to President, transmitted to the House earlier in the week, indicated, members said, the imperative need of a proper force to handle the litigation, much of which will soon be ready for the courts.

Mr. Daugherty indicated that the he proposed to set up a special "war fraud investigating and prosecuting force," with orders to speed up cases.

A bill, providing for the half million dollar appropriation, will be reported to the House Saturday, Chairman Madden declared, and every effort made to pass it early next week.

The bill, it was said, would authorize the department of justice to obtain quarters outside of its present building for housing lawyers and investigators.

Effort were still being made today by Representative Johnson, South Dakota, and Woodruff, Michigan, Republican, joint authors of a resolution for investigation of the handling of war claim cases, to get action on the bill by the House.

The committee has voted to give it privileged status, but there has been no indication as to just when it might be called upon.

WOMAN'S COMPLEX LIFE

Woman's complex life with its multitudinous calls is given as the reason for many a nervous breakdown. Home work, social obligations, dressmaking and the care of children keep the 20th century woman in a whirlwind of activity until headaches develop, packache, nervousness, and oftentimes more serious ills which are peculiar to her sex alone. Such women should not despair, but be guided by the letters so often published in this paper from women who have been in just such conditions, but who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This is a root and herb medicine that contains no drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.—adv

New Step Taken In Case Against William Blizzard

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., May 11.—(Associated Press).—A new step in the State's case against William Blizzard, charged with treason, was brought into testimony today when S. P. Embury, of Clotier, declared more than 100 shots were fired into his automobile on the night of August 22, by a group of armed men in the road.

Alva Rowe, another witness on the stand late today, testified that the armed men concerned in the March and fighting around Blair, "seemed to listen to Blizzard and seemed to be under him."

The defense was turned back again today in its efforts to cross question in detail on an exchange of shots near Sharples, between State police and Logan county deputy sheriffs on one side and a group of miners on the other in which two miners were killed and two wounded. It has been argued several times by H. W. Houston, chief defense counsel, and his associate that the Sharples clash was the cause of renewed activity by the miners after district President Keeney of the United Mine Workers union had turned them back once at Madison. Judge Woods ruled squarely against this contention, however, in declaring that "not a single witness has let drop a word to show that the battle of Sharples had anything to do with the march proceeding from Madison to Blair."

Embury, besides testifying as to the shooting up of his automobile, which occurred on the road near Clotier, also told of being forced as conductor of a freight train to make a trip with his train gathering up men from Whitesville and other points to be taken to Jeffrey, one of the base points of the miners' forces, during the fighting.

Rowe, a union coal miner, of Blair, testified that Jim Morrison, president of the local union ordered him and others to guard the roads, about a week before the fighting began. Morrison styled himself major and issued orders to all the armed men about Blair, he said later. The speaker also said that C. Frank Keeney and Fred Mooney, district officers, could take no part in the fighting and would have to adopt a hands-off policy, because they were needed to "carry this thing out" afterwards.

MRS. STILLMAN CROSS EXAMINED AS TO RELATIVES

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 11.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman was cross-examined for more than five hours today in the trial of the divorce suit brought against her by James A. Stillman, New York banker. The plaintiff's lawyers took her in detail over the history of her relations with Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, alleged by Mr. Stillman to be the father of 3-year-old Guy Stillman.

Throughout the quizzing, which is to be resumed tomorrow, Mrs. Stillman held herself innocent of wrongdoing, with Beauvais. Her feeling toward the guide, she described as "friendly—such as a woman would have toward a servant."

The banker's counsel sought to have her admit authorship of the so-called "confession letter," which she wrote to Mr. Stillman from Buffalo, N. Y., in April 1918, six months prior to the birth of Guy. When she was shown the letter and asked to identify the handwriting, as her own, defense counsel objected and the matter went over until tomorrow when Judge Gleason is to decide on allowing the question to stand.

Heretofore several attempts to get her letter into evidence have failed. Mrs. Stillman said that when Guy was born she sent a telegram to Beauvais reading: "black bear arrived."

Similar messages were dispatched to her daughter, Anne, and son "Bud," she added, with Beauvais. Her feeling toward the guide, she described as "friendly—such as a woman would have toward a servant."

The plain gold band ring Beauvais gave Mrs. Stillman in which were inscribed the initials "B. B." was the subject of considerable testimony. A local jeweler testified the inscription was the trade mark of a Montreal jeweler shop. Mrs. Stillman said she never had worn the ring, but had used it as a tie clasp and later had given it to "Bud." She seldom wore rings on her fingers, she said. She had worn her wedding ring for only "about five hours" after her marriage.

COUNTESS ZICHY, WHO JILTED BURTON, HAPPY

NEW YORK, May 11.—Countess Zichy, New York society girl, who deserted her fiancé at the last minute to elope with a former sweetheart, Count Edward Zichy, is "divinely happy."

The fashionable Park Avenue section hasn't had such a thrill in months as it got when the popular Charlotte Demarest, who was to marry George Burton, son of a millionaire brewer, Tuesday night, ran off with the count a few hours before.

"I am divinely happy, and I am sure everyone will understand there was nothing else to do under the circumstances," Countess Zichy said. They will spend their honeymoon in Europe visiting the count's parents in Hungary.

Report Of Com. On Bureau Of Eng. Is Virtually Ready

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The report of the senate committee named by Senator Mellon to make an inventory of the stock of the bureau of engraving and printing, after a shake-up in the personnel there by order of President Harding, has been virtually completed, it was said tonight at the treasury.

According to high treasury officials the inventory will show no serious irregularities, although it is expected a number of minor discrepancies in the millions of dollars of supplies charged to the bureau will be reported.

The completed report, officials said, which will itemize the stock of the great plant checked against the books, probably will be submitted to Mr. Mellon tomorrow. It will in turn transmit the results of the inventory to President Harding. In view of the president's absence from the city over the week end, it is thought probable that the report will not be made public for several days.

While the completed report is not yet available high officials declared that it would bear out Mr. Mellon's statement that minor discrepancies in the millions of dollars of supplies charged to the bureau have not been of sufficient importance to substantiate rumors that the country was "flooded" with duplicate government bonds and counterfeit currency and stamps.

The full report, officials explained, would contain the discrepancies found at the time of the last previous inventory in 1920 when a number of special sheets of paper used in the printing of bonds were found to be missing.

Upon the completion of the inventory fixing the amount of stock charged to the bureau Director Hill will be called upon to sign a receipt for the transfer of the bureau's supplies into his keeping, which he refused to do at the time of assuming office pending a check by the accounting committee.

SCHOONER THAT DEFENDED CUP TO REST ON BAR

KEY WEST, Fla., May 11.—The schooner Magic, which on August 8, 1870 in lower New York bay successfully defended the America's cup against the British yacht Cambria, and was the first of the modern cup defenders for the America, which first won the international trophy, did so on August 22, 1861 by defeating the British yacht Aurora, and it was not until nineteen years later that the schooner Magic attempted to take it home. It was in this contest that the Magic emerged victor, the first of nineteen vessels in the race to cross the finish, defeating her British challenger by thirty-one minutes and twenty seconds. In this contest the Magic, then owned by Franklin Osgood, of New York, bested the America, Dauntless, Rambler, Fleeting, Alarm, Widgown, Silvio, Idler, Alice, Tidal Wave, Gaviolin, Madeline, Phawon and four other American yachts famous in their day, all of which were in the race to outlast the Cambria, the British entry. At the finish the Cambria was eight in actual time and tenth in order by time allowance.

The Magic as built in Philadelphia by T. Byerly and Son in 1857 for Captain R. F. Loper, as a sloop and upon launching was christened the Magic. After one year, the schooner was lengthened fifteen feet forward the second season twelve feet aft, her rig at that time being changed to that of a schooner, and during her third season she was lengthened fifteen feet amidships. Before meeting the Cambria she was rebuilt at City Island, N. Y., and when she defeated the challenger sailed on about seventy-nine feet waterline, twenty feet nine inches beam, and six feet three inches draft. She registered 92.2 tons.

The vessel passed through various hands before Mr. Osgood gained possession of her. She was sold by Captain Loper in 1866 to William J. McVicker, who became commodore of the New York Yacht Club in 1866, and it was McVicker who changed her name from Magic to George Lorillard purchased the yacht in 1867. ## CHAS. COMISKEY CITED TO APPEAR

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 11.—Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago American League baseball team, was ordered by Judge J. J. Gregory today to appear in court here to be questioned regarding an alleged fund made up by White Sox players and others in 1919 to purchase victories.

The order was issued upon request of Raymond J. Cannon, attorney for "Happy" Felsch, one of the White Sox players banned from organized baseball as a result of the 1919 world series scandal. In his request Felsch names the Detroit Americans as the club from whom it was said attempts were made to have games thrown. Mr. Cannon announced that he soon would begin similar actions for would begin similar actions for

THIS FLORIDA FATHER KNOWS

What Children Often Need—Eighteen Happy Children in a Healthy Black-Draught Family

Botts, Fla.—Near here is the plantation homestead of Santa Rosa County, a well known family—the Taylors. To a visitor at the Taylor home, the Rev. W. N. Taylor authorized publication of the following statement:

"I am comparatively a young man; am healthy and can do a lot of work. I am the father of eighteen living children. Our last children were twins. I lost one grown daughter from lung trouble, but certainly can say I have a healthy lot of children, about as healthy as you will find anywhere, and I feel I have been blessed."

"Our home remedy is Theodor's Black-Draught. I don't know when the time was that I haven't used it. I have used it ever since I was married. I know. When the little ones are feverish, or have colds, we make a tea from Black-Draught and give them. When they are older, they take the powder dry. I know it is fine for headaches, sour stomach, indigestion and other liver troubles."

"I don't know just what we would have done without Black-Draught. It has done wonders in our family towards keeping them, well and healthy. Thanks to a good remedy."

"I am a preacher, farmer and merchant. It takes all to take care of us."

(In an article about the Taylor children printed some time ago in many newspapers, Mr. Taylor was quoted as saying that they have always been happy, had always continued in good health, and hope to so continue.) At all druggists.—adv.

"Buck" Weaver, Eddie Ciolette and "Sweet" Ribbig, former Sox players. Felsch, in his affidavit requested the appearance of Comiskey, states that to perfect the complaint in his original suit, he desires to examine the defendant on several points in connection with the charges of alleged conspiracy, alleged "throwing" of games and financial matters.

BALES IN THE WOOD

VINELAND, N. J., May 11.—William F. Bailey, who said he is 13 years old, and Alma Scott, 15 years old, were arrested this morning and held at the request of their parents. The couple said they lived in Millville Manor, and Bailey, with pride, said "his girl" was a high school student.

WHEN YOU SCORE A BALL GAME

A time at bat is never charged against the batsman who is awarded first base by the umpire on being hit by a pitched ball or call balls, or when he makes a sacrifice hit or is interfered with by the catcher.

OFFICER HAYNES GAINS 28 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC

Stomach Troubles of Ten Years Standing Overcome And Old Friends Are Surprised To See Him So Well and Strong.

Policeman G. W. Haynes, for twenty years a member of the Richmond police department, and now on special duty at the capital, makes a statement regarding Tanlac that will be read with interest throughout the State.

"For ten years," he says, "stomach trouble had been pulling me down. Everything I ate soured on my stomach and I bloated so with gas I nearly killed me. I had to eat very little. I would have pains all through my stomach and up around my heart and lungs. I felt all fagged out and unequal to my work and at night what little sleep I could get was almost sound. Of mornings I would almost be weak to get out of bed and it took all the grit I had to keep from giving up altogether.

"Finally I decided to try Tanlac and to make a long story short I have gained twenty-eight pounds in weight, sleep like a top, eat what I want, and feel fine all the time, no matter how hard the day's work. Tanlac beats any medicine I have ever heard of."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—adv.

Two Escaped Robbers Taken

LYNCHBURG, May 11.—Guy Ward and Alfred Jarvis, who escaped from the Rustburg jail yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, were captured yesterday afternoon near Bo-coc by R. T. Harrison, agricultural agent of the Peoples Bank of Lynchburg, and Allan Farmer, deputy sheriff, Rustburg, and taken back to jail at Rustburg.

The capture was effected when the two men were overtaken as they walked along a road leading into Candler's Mountains. Details were meager last night and it is not known whether Ward and Jarvis offered opposition.

F. F. Fortune, of Lynchburg, took his bloodhounds to Rustburg and they followed the trail for about 12 miles, becoming exhausted by the heat and dust.

Ward and Jarvis, who were sentenced to eight and 12 years respectively in the penitentiary at the recent term of circuit court, occupied a cell together at the jail, pending transfer to the penitentiary. In some way they obtained possession of an iron bar and broke the lock to their cell.

Ward was convicted on a charge of complicity in the robbery of Frank Ferroni last February. He is supposed to have been one of the three men whom Ferroni transported three miles into the country only to be threatened with a pistol while the trio used him to a tree, and left him sagged.

Jarvis was sentenced to serve 12 years for his share in the robbery of W. F. Frey, traveling representative of the Standard Oil Company, who had given him and Luis Carreira a lift as they were coming on foot toward Rustburg. The two men were captured the same night and most of the money taken from Frey was recovered, showing blood stains. They pleaded guilty at the recent term of court.

Five negroes escaped from the Rustburg jail last winter and none of them have been captured.

"G. O. P. Newberry" Is Beal With $1 on It

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A neat little reminder of the Newberry scandal was shown around the Senate this afternoon. It will be broadcast over the country and is expected to prove effective in turning votes against all who voted to retain Mr. Newberry in the Senate.

The new campaign button consists of a green leaf on which is printed "The G. O. P. Newberry." Under this inscription is a small white oval-shaped berry, with a black dollar mark embossed on it. The white berry looks like polished ivory.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, received a small consignment of the badge and distributed them around among the appreciate. For a time he wore one in his lapel.

The badges are said to have come from Pittsburgh, where they were devised by one of the Democratic leaders. It is said they will be used all over Pennsylvania in fighting George Wharton Pepper, who voted for the retention of Newberry, and who is now seeking the senatorial nomination to succeed Penrose.

Methodists Now In Session; To Discuss Politics

HO, SPRINGS, May 12.—Politics moved into the foreground of the nineteenth quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, taking up the question. A number of bishops are to be elected at this session.

LAWRENCEVILLE HAS NO NEWS OF METEORITE

The meteor which flashed through space at about 11:20 o'clock last night and which was seen throughout "outhside Virginia, had not been located today. At Lawrenceville, near where the meteor was supposed to have fallen, nothing was known of it, although the blinding flash of the meteorite was seen by several. Reports that windows were broken by the concussion were not confirmed by the authorities of that place. Several Danville people saw the meteorite.

GOOD "ON TIME" RECORD FOR SOUTHERN IN APRIL
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Southern Railway system passenger trains maintained their record for creditable "on time" performance during April. Vice President H. W. Miller, in charge of operation, announced that during the month out of 14,541 passenger trains operated, 18,600 or 92.5 per cent, arrived at final terminus on time, and 14,011, or 96.3 per cent, maintained schedule or made no time while on the Southern.

Cocaine Fatal In Woman's Case

New York Patient Undergoing Minor Operation Suddenly Succumbs.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Mrs. L. Pierce Clark, wife of Dr. L. Pierce Clark, professor of neurology and psychiatry at Columbia University, exhibited symptoms a few days ago which indicated she was suffering from ailments that might be removed were her tonsils cut out. So her husband called up Dr. Hampton P. Howell, of No. 114 East Fourth street, one of his best friends and one of the most accomplished surgeons in throat, ear and nose the city has.

Shortly before noon yesterday the Clark limousine took Mrs. Clark to Dr. Howell's office. Dr. Clark went on, deeming the operation a trivial one, as normally it would be. The surgeon painted the throat and tonsils with a cocaine solution, as is customary, then injected cocaine into the affected tonsils.

Mrs. Clark, who was 37, was seized suddenly with convulsions soon after the application of the cocaine. These lasted a minute or two. Then she subsided. But before Dr. Howell could begin the operation Mr. Clark suddenly collapsed and died. Her heart had failed.

Because of the friendship of the two practitioners, the mishap was particularly tragic. Dr. Howell had performed no less than 1,800 such tonsil-cuttings without a mishap. And his friend, Dr. Clark, knew and appreciated that.

As soon as the operating surgeon realized what had happened he called up Dr. Clark and also the chief medical examiner, Dr. Norris, who is a friend of both men, and a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Dr. Norris said that as medical examiner he had to review last year 28 cases of death under local anesthesia, of which eight cases were those of persons having their tonsils removed.

Some persons, he said, were much more susceptible to cocaine than others, although, on the whole, he thought this form of local anesthesia was better than general anesthesia by ether or chloroform.

All mothers of pupils of Cabell Street Methodist Sunday school are urgently invited to attend the session of the school Sunday morning, "Mothers' Day" will be observed.

Louis Summers Succeeds Muncy

Louis P. Summers, commonwealth's attorney of Washington county and a resident of Abingdon, will be appointed district attorney of the Western District of Virginia to succeed Thomas J. Muncy, of Bland, who died suddenly in Roanoke last Sunday. There had been some talk of Clarence Contry, assistant attorney, being elevated to the post which is usually an eagerly sought political appointment since it commands a good salary. Both Congressman Bascom Slemp and J. L. Crupper, Republican State chairman, recommended Summers, who has accepted the post.

Refuse To Act On Allen Pardon

LYNCHBURG, May 11.—Charles G. Patterson, C. R. Claiborne, A. T. Henderson, E. Bussey Krebs, Wilbur Weadon and H. O. Smith were introduced as new members of the Lions Club at the weekly luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Virginian Hotel.

Considerable discussion arose when W. M. Black, president, read a letter from Sidna Edwards in which the members of the Allen gang now serving a term in the penitentiary asked the organization to endorse an appeal for a pardon. After Col Charles E. Burks and Thomas S. Kirkpatrick had both opposed any action being taken the matter was allowed to drop.

—Mrs. M. A. Davidson, Mrs. J. T. Davidson, Mrs. A. W. Kendrick and Miss Addie Davidson, of Glade Mill, are in the city today shopping.

DRUMMER DOING HIS BIT.

"I am a travelling salesman and have met others who, like myself, were suffering from indigestion, stomach trouble and gastritis. Since taking 2 weekly doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I am very much pleased with its results, so much so that I have induced others to take it and they too were marvelously helped." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and always the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. McFall's Drug Store, Trent Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—adv.

NO BABY FAMINE

IN VOLGA VALLEY

BUZULUK, Samara Province, Russia, May 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—There has been no baby famine in the Volga Valley. Even during the six months just passed, when hundreds of thousands of adults and children have died, the story has been a valiant fight to keep pace with the Reaper. Accurate statistics are just as lacking on the birth rate as on the death rate, but an observer in the famine districts finds on every hand evidence that the story has been a valiant fight to keep pace with the Reaper.

The Samara district despite the ravages of famine among children last autumn, literally swarms with infants.

Thousands of new-born babies, thrust upon famine-stricken communities by undernourished mothers probably have died within a few days or weeks after birth. Others are lying living skeletons with drawn faces, like old men, in the arms of their mothers. But most of them are healthy and robust, and many are being nursed by their mothers in box cars riding with their mothers to some more fruitful regions and elsewhere, seemed plump and rosy and happy.

An American Relief Administration census of Samara province last September showed that 40 per cent of the inhabitants were children under 16 years of age. While the mortality among children was very high last September they have recovered from American food supplies since then, which the adults have not and the death rate recently has been higher among men than among either adult women or children.

ARGENTINE PLANS FOR RAILWAY BUILDING

BUENOS AIRES, May 11.—(United Press.)—Latest figures on Argentine railways, just compiled by the government, show that construction work in the past six years has been at an extremely low level. The country still can claim the greatest mileage in railroads in South America, in fact, more than all of the other nations of the continent combined for the total is now 36,349 kilometers.

Of the above figures 6,204 kilometers represent state railways, while 14 private companies own 29,944 kilometers. The largest of these are the Great Southern Railways with 6,085 kilometers, the Western Railways with 5,348 and the Buenos Aires to Pacific with 5,579. Together they sum up a total of 17,012 kilometers.

The present administrator general of the State railways, Senor Fernandez Bested, is planning to construct in the near future a series of heavy lines in the southern territories, with the intention of joining up the existing Patagonian lines.

Duty Is Placed On Nitrates, Senate Voting 35 To 24

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Senate had another eleven hour session today with the tariff bill, but again made comparatively little progress. Its most important action was the approval 35 to 24, of a committee amendment proposing to remove ammonium nitrate from the free list and to make it dutiable at one cent a pound.

Four Republicans—Borah, Idaho, Capper, Kansas, La Follette, Wisconsin, and Norris, Nebraska—voted against the amendment and two Democrats—Broussard, Louisiana, and Kendrick, Wyoming—supported it. Explaining the amendment, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bill, said ammonium nitrate was one of the items on which the committee had "wobled" proposing first that it be on the free list. He explained that this item was regarded as being in the "twilight zone" between the free list and the protection list and told the Senate that the placing of a duty on it would make necessary a compensatory duty on explosives.

After the vote, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, who led the fight against the proposal, said he wanted to congratulate the Republicans of the Agricultural-tariff bloc "for standing by the farmers' road builders and others who use explosives and dynamite and for making this present to the trusts."

Senator Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, a Republican of the finance committee, urged the amendment, declaring that the duty was necessary to protect from the German nitrate trust the nitrate industry built up in this country during the war. He added that the issue would have a bearing on the Mussel Shoals project.

At the suggestion of Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, the Senate deferred action on ammonium phosphate and ammonium sulphate. Senator Simmons said consideration
